BLIND BUCKLEY BACK.

The Notorious Democratic Boss of San Francisco Turns Up in Boston.

Boston, Sept. 10 .- Christopher A. Buckley, the blind Democratic ex-boss of San Francisco, who about three years ago was indicted by the California courts and decamped to Montreal before he was brought to bar, arrived here to-day. From Montreal Buckley went to Europe, and with his wife and a young son has been living almost out of sight of parties interested in his whereabouts. The Canard line steamer which arrived this morning brought the family to this city. Buckley as interviewed as soon as he had located his living quarters and said that he had returned to America with the determination to never again enter politics. He assumed a defiant tone when speaking of the indictments against him, which he declared were illegally procured. He announced it his purpose to remain in the East for a few weeks and then proceed to San Francisco and fight his case to the end.

HOTTEST DAY OF THE YEAR. This Does Not Apply to Indianapolis, but to the Far Northwest.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ST. PAUL, Sept. 10 .- Reports from many points in Minnesota and Dakotas indicate that this was the bottest day of 1893. In St. Paul the highest temperature was reached at 3 o'clock, when the register indicated 94°. At Mankato it ran up to 99° in the shade, and at several points along the railroad border it was more than one hundred degrees. There has been no rain in western Minnesota during the past six weeks, and many of the small streams have run dry. If that section does not get the equinoctial rains it will suffer greatly.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 .- The recent financial disturbances were discussed from the Rev. Said he, "we had not lost one dollar of the real wealth of the Nation. We are not to-day one cent poorer in that which really constitutes the wealth of a people. Such a panic could have been produced only by human trick and chicanery. The panie manufactured to order. done with malice sforethought, it has in elements of the deed of Cain. There was a concerted action of a certain coterie of great money hucksters throughout the world. They issued a year ago certain secret financial bulletins to the lesser lights, giving them warning to follow in the steps of their Watterson Will Address the "Drummers." LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 10.—Mesers. Louis T. Labeaume and B. W. Lyons, of St. Louis, prominent members of the Travelers' Protective Association, arrived in Louisville this morning, bearing official credentials from the association and from the Governor of Missouri, and Mayor of St. Louis and others to the Hon. Henry Watterson, inviting him to deliver the address at the annual reunion of the traveling men of the United States, to be held in St. Louis at the exposition, Sept. 13. They urged his acceptance in such a forcible manner that Louisville's great orator-editor gracefully yielded. Colonel Watterson said that nothing but the proverbial persistency and powerful arguments of the commercial traveler could have induced him to consent to deliver an address during these trying political times.

SERMONS AND HORSE RACES

How the Great Hordes of Boomers Put in the Sabbath Day.

Excursion Trains Will Start at Noon To-Day, Running Twelve Miles an Hour Into the Strip.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GUTHRIE, O. T., Sept. 10.-This has been a strange Sunday to the people gathered on the border of the Cherokee Strip here and those along the line. Religious services were held, but the gamblers and horse traders had the biggest crowds, and the majority of the people were far from spending their time in religious meditation. The arrangements at all the booths are complete, and they will open at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning. Several thousand people are gathered around the Arkansas City booth, while at Cameron and Kiowa the line is half a mile long. At Orlando 400 men have been in line for two days and nights, and the number was more than doubled to-day. At Capadian, Tex., in the extreme north western border of the land, 1.500 cowboys are in camp. They will ride from there to the town of Woodward and take possession of the town site. Special agent Swineford announced officially to-day that no person can take more than one lot in a town site. He also states that trains will undoubtedly be run on the several roads to accommodate the great crowds, starting from the line at 12 o'clock, and running at twelve miles an hour. A dispatch from Hunnewell, on the north line, says that hundreds of fine horses died today. Numbers of these horses have been dying for several days, and have undoubtedly been poisoned by boomers who want the best nage out of the way. Horse thieves have been at work in this vicinity, and have stolen a number of fine animals. Many people came in to-day. Soldiers arrived on the strip, and the whole border line is now thoroughly patrolled.

Sermon Preached from a Trunk While the Cowboys Were Racing Horses.

CALDWELL, Kan., Sept. 10 .- Although the minds of the Cherokee boomers seem at present to be occupied more with things earthly than with things heavenly, some of them have not entirely forgotten their religious obligations. Rev. John Fassett, one of the few ministers of the gospel mong the boomers, held church services in the camp south of this place to-day. Of the five thousand in camp, some eight hundred attended the services. The services were held in the open sir, and the members of the congregaion either stood on their feet or sat on the sward. The pulpit was a large packing case. There was no organ. With these simple facilities a regular church service was held. There were no new fail bonnets or costumes, no choir or organ, but the congregation profited as much, perhaps, as other congregations in other parts of the country where such things are in-dispensable to Sabbath morning de-votion. Not all the becomers attended the service. Some even profaned the day by playing cards, others by horse racing and other amusements. These worldly diversions, however, took place some distance from the religious meeting, so that the worshipers were not disturbed. The churches in the city were well attended by "stripers." During the afternoon many people from the city drove down to the boomers camp on the strip line south of here, to see the novel sights thereabouts. Last night a line of prospective settlers began to form at the door of the registration booth, which will be opened for business to-morrow. At midnight last night two hundred men had taken places in the line and this evening fully three hundred more had joined their ranks. A big crush is expected when the booth opens for ousiness in the morning, so anxious will each man be to secure his certificate of registration. The booth is an army tent, sixteen by eighteen feet, furnished with tables and chairs. It would not take much pushing and shoving by a crowd of a thousand men or more to wreck it. Hundreds of boomers continue to arrive over the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway. Eight hundred came in today by rail, some five hundred more by prairie schooners and about 150 by foot and on horseback.

The number of boomers now congregated here and in the camps on the line aggregates about 8,000 people. Of these about 3,500 are women and children. From now on the arrivals are expected to fall off, for on previous occasions of this kind it has been observed that the home-seeker is an impatient individual who comes early to the new country to gain knowledge of details and secure all the advantages possible for a run for a claim. Among the arrivals to-day was another large party from Colorado. They are mostly poor people who prefer taking chances in this new country than await a renewal of activity in Colorado dependent upon the settlement of the silver question.

The Rock Island railway people and the city of Caldwell are furnishing free water to the campers on the strip line south of here, so that the strippers suffer no inconvenience on that score.

IN LINE FORTY-TWO HOURS. Men Took Up Their Stations at 6 O'Clock Saturday Night. ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Sept. 10 .- The government booths, at which prospective settlers of the Cherokee Strip must register, make oath of good faith and procure a certificate setting forth that those requiraments have been complied with, open for business to-morrow. These booths are located on a strip of land one hundred feet wide on the north and south boundaries of the Cherokee Strip. and the boomers will be allowed to register. The government officers in charge of the registration booths south of here expect to be able to issue certificates with enough expedition to supply all comers before Saturday noon. Boomers began to line up in front of the booths last evening. John B. Cameron, who has been in the real estate business for twenty years, was the first man to take position. He took his place at 6 o'clock last night. J. A. Seay, a son of Governor Seay, of Oklahoma was second in line. Behind him is J. R. Anderson, of Kansas City, and fourth is U. J. C. Columbia, who got left in the rush for the Cheyenne and Arapahoe lands two years ago, and who has been waiting here ever since for the opening of the Cherokee lands. Frank Howard, of Boston, was fifth in line. Accessions to the line bave been made all last night and nal, Sept. 2 to 8, inclusive, will be sent to terday Martin Casey drank from a bottle ton, was fifth in line. Accessions to SETS of the G. A. R. ed containing carbolic acid, which he mistook the line bave been made all last night and nal, Sept. 2 to 8, inclusive for alcohol. He died within half an hour. to-day and this evening 857 people were in any address for 25 cents.

line, with others falling in every few minutes. The line is about a quarter of a mile long now. It is composed of all nationalities, ages, conditions and sexes. The Chinaman and American, the youth and octogenarian, the capitalist and the tramp, and the women were on equal terms for once. Venders of hot coffee, sandwiches, water and pie do a thriving business along the line.

The railroad people here state that they will run exentsion trains into the Cherokee Strip on the opening day. It has been understood heretofore that the Interior Department had forbade the railroads to run excursion trains on the ground that they would not be available to all settlers and would place those who could not take trains at a disadvantage. It is understood now that at the hour of noon the Cherokee Strip becomes a part of the Territory at Oklahoma, and that the control of the Interior Department over it ceases at that hour, placing it beyond the power of the Secretary of the Interior to stop the running of

There are already indications of trouble between the men in the two lines at the booths when they open to-morrow morning that may end in bloodebed. Requests have been made to the officers of the troops to break up the lines, and then give an equal chance to those who have come on the grounds to-day. The officers refuse to do this or in any way. interfere, claiming it to be the right of the men to form when and where they please. There are excited groups of men in the camp and in the city discussing the action of those who pre-empted places yesterday. and threats of violence are made if they persist in holding their places.

Condition of Affairs Around the White House Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.-Congratulatory telegrams and messages still continue to arrive at the White House expressing the felicity of the public from one end of the country to the other over the happiness which has been brought to the chief executive of the Nation and his wife by the birth of another child. Both Mrs. Cleveland and her babe are as well as the conditions will allow, and every one at the executive mansion wears a happy smile. Dr. Bryant is living at the White House for the present, but there is no reason, except his intimacy with the family, which would make it necessary for him to do so. The day at the White House was spent very quietly, the drizzling cold rain which has poured down all day keeping the ocwould, from currecity, have walked through the White House grounds.

AMALGAMATED CALLED.

Demand of Employers for Another 10 Per Cent. Cut to Be Considered. PITTSBURG, Sept. 10.-The national executive board of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers has issued a circular to the members of that organization, asking them to reconvene the scale conference with the manufacturers for the purpose of considering the demand of the employers for a further reduction in wages of 10 per cent. in the bar, guide and ten-inch departments. The circular requests an answer not later than Sept. 15.

Cost of the Homestead Strike. HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 10,-The report of Prof. Albert S. Bolles, Chief of the Bureau of Industrial Statistics, just completed, shows that, not including the strike of the employes of the Carnegie Steel Company at Homestead, there were only twenty-six strikes during the year, a much smaller number than usual. The report concludes with the statement that the striking employes at Homestead lost in wages about $1,250,000, while the expense to the State in transportation and maintainence of the troops was $440,256.81. Strikers Threaten to Shoot. PITTSBURG, Sept. 10. - About one hundred Italian coal miners, employed in the Bradlin mines, in Cherry valley, near here, were discharged yesterday on account of the depression in the coal trade. The firm employed three hundred miners, and those dismissed were mostly single men. The action of the company was received with indignation. This afternoon the strikers apdeared on the streets armed, and openly threatened to shoot down the first man attempting to enter the mines to-morrow.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10 .- The general commanding the United Confederate Veterans has seened an order fixing Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 3 and 4, as the dates for holding the reunion at Birmingham and the date for the unveiling of the confederate monument at Chicago for Saturday, Oct. 7. At Chicago, Hon. W. P. C. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, will be the orator of the day, and Gen. J. B. Gordon, of Georgia, will preside on the occasion as commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans.

Poisoned with Toadstools,

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEW YORK, Sept. 10 .- Two families poisoned and one man dead is the result of a mushroom expedition made last Tuesday to West Farms by Frank Calalaho and Joseph Olovero. The men knew but little about mushrooms and brought back a basketful of toadstools. They and their wives and children partook of them and were poisoned. No physicians were called until last night, when Calalaho's case grew serious, and he died this moraing. Olovero may also die. The women are very sick, but may recover.

The Pesky Little "Boll" Worm.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 10 .- The boil worm is doing great damage on Arkansas river plantations. Many farmers in this, Pulaski, Jefferson and Drew counties report their river-bottom cotton almost destroyed by the worms. The crop has been injured at least 18 per cent. in the last three weeks by the drought and boll worms.

No Sunday Cars in Toronto.

TORONTO, Sept. 10 .- A question of vital interest to all street-railway corporations has been raised in this city and may end in an extensive strike before it is settled. Some days ago the question of a Sunday car service was submitted to a vote of the citizens, and was decided in the negative by a small majority. Thirteen thousand voted in favor of the service and nearly fourteen thousand against 11.

Before the Senate Comes to a Vote on the Repeal Bill.

Several Red-Hot Speakers Will Occupy the Floor This Week Bearing the Free Silver Standard.

DANIEL'S BANK-TAX INCUBUS

And Hill's Elections Bill Will Not Be Pushed Just Now.

Senate Committee on Pensions Fixed So that the Democrats Can Prevent Any Action Being Taken.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 .- The repeal bill will continue to be the absorbing topic of interest before Congress this week. Tomorrow Senator Teller may conclude his speech begun Saturday. Notices of speeches to come have already been given sufficient to fill in the greater part of the week and others are known to be in course of preparation, so that in the absence of an agree ment of some kind there is no reason to believe that a vote on the bill can be reached. nitely on the date of delivery of his speech Mr. Mills, of Texas, may follow Mr. Telier in the debate. It is the current report that he will advocate unconditional repeat and as the Senator comes from strong silver State and must thereby antagonize a number of his constituents his utterances will doubtless be listoned to with great interest. Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, is down for a speech Tuesday, and may be expected to deliver a strong argument from a free-coinage standpoint. Sonator Shoup, of Idaho, will address the Senate Wednesday in the same line, and Mr. Hansbrough, of North Dakota, and Mr. White, of California, will follow on the same day, if time permits, also with freesilver speeches. Thursday Senator Daniel, of Virginia, will have the floor for the beginning of his speech presumably for conditional repeal, and this is as far as the programme in the Senate is fixed. Speculation is rife as to the length of the debate now progressing.

Mr. George, of Mississippi, has stated that he expects to speak about two days. Mr. Jones, of Nevada, and Mr. Daniel of Virginia, will each consume two days, and Mesers. Morgan, of Alabama, and Stewart, of Nevada, will each speak one day. Even if a compromise shall be ultimately agreed upon, the final vote will not be taken earlier than about the first week in October. Some Senators are of the opinion that the debate will continue until the middle of October.

Senator Voorhees's repeal bill, and his bill for the removal of the tax on State banks, hang like a cloud over the session. Mr. Voorhees decided, more than a week since, that it would be inexpedient to push his bill in the interest of the national banks until the more important repeal bills had been disposed of, and his repeal bill has been laid aside to allow the House measure to be discussed until the Senate be ready for action, when, if the question of unconditional repeal be reached, the Voorhees bill will probably be substituted for the bill which comes from the other end of the Capitol. Recognizing, as he does, the supreme importance of financial legislation, Senator Hill will not attempt to secure consideration for his anti-federal election law bill until the nestion of repeal be concluded. These are the only subjects of national importance before the Senate except Senator Peffer's resolution concerning the reserves of the New York, Philadelphia and Boston banks. The Peffer resolution has already been made to do considerable duty as a time killer, and it occupies a place where it can still be utilized for that purpose. This measure is not on the calendar, but lies on the table, and can be taken up for discussion at any time during the morning hour, and as long as there be any who desires to talk it, it will not be referred. If, therefore, the opponents of repeal prefer to vary the discussion they can talk every day up to 2 o'clock on this resolution. Some of them manifested a disposition when the resolution, in a slightly different form, was before them earlier in the session to give the bank question a pretty thorough siring, and it is possible that there may be more talk in this line before the end of the present week, before the res-clution can be disposed of by referring is to the committee on finance. The resolutle, Allen and Beckwith may possibly be taken up, with the consent of the leaders of the repeal forces, if it should appear that they can be considered without debate. A part of the day Wednesday will be devoted to eulogies of the late Senator Stanford, of California. Killing Time in the House.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 .- In the present unsettled condition of affairs it is impossible to foretell what will be the programme of the House of Representatives for a week ahead. The fact is, no course of action has been laid out by the leaders, and they are salisfied to let each session of the body take care of itself. This state of things is likely to continue until either the Senate acts on the repeal bill pending before it, or the time comes when the committees on appropriations and ways and means have some proposed legislation formulated for the consideration of the House, Later in the week, one of the bills providing for the repeal of the federal election laws may come up for consideration; but the probabilities are against it. So, too, the bill introduced on Saturday by Mr. Everett, of Massachusetts, to modify the Geary law by extending the time for registration from the 5th of May, 1893, to Sept. 1, 1894, and in various other ways alleviating the severity of the provisions of that measure. This bill is understood to be an administration measure, and early action is said to be desired. The committee on foreign affairs, to which it has been referred, does not meet until Thursday, so that unless a special meeting be called a report on it cannot be looked for until the latter end of the week. It is likely on disposing of the committee, the House will take a recess for three days, waiting for some measure to be put in shape for action.

GETTING THE WORST OF IT.

Senate Committee on Pensions Designed to Do Nothing for the Veterans. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Sept. 10,-The patriotic

Hoosier veterans and their friends who have just spent a week entertaining their comrades in arms will read with contempt that the Democratic majority of the Senate committee on pensions was selected and organized with a view to defeating action on all pension bills. By an understanding between the Democratic members of the committee a quorum cannot be secured for the transaction of any business. The Democrate have a majority of two on the committee. If all of them except the chairman, Mr. Palmer, of Illinois, remain away from the meeting as they say they will, a querum for business cannot be secured at any time, and no bills can be acted on in this Congress. Each
